- Net income decreased by 3% or US$4.2 million to US$153.5 million from US$157.7 million for the same period in 2021, mainly due to a foreign exchange loss of US$16.5 million.

The company maintains the ability to improve run-of-mine ore grade to respond to market conditions and to mitigate market risks.
- The Company continues to focus its efforts on optimizing the operation at both mines, stabilizing the Jiama Mine's production and potentially extending the mine life of CSH Mine.
- The Company has not experienced any significant impact on its operations by the COVID-19 pandemic. Both of the Company's mines have been able to operate and sell products without significant interruption during the six months ended June 30, 2022. The Company continues to closely monitor the health of its employees and supply chains to be able to respond to any potential disruptions, should any arise. The Company is also managing its cash reserves to be able to withstand any financial ramifications of potential disruptions.

The Company's Chairman and CEO, Mr. Liangyou Jiang, stated, "In the first half of 2022, China Gold International Resources continued its good momentum of operation. The gold output of CSH Gold Mine increased by 13% compared with the same period of last year, and the cash production cost decreased by 14%; At Jiama Mine, the mining plan was adjusted to take advantage of high copper prices by appropriately increasing the mining rate of low-grade ores. The recovery rates of all metals have seen a steady improvement. In the second half of this year, the Company will continue to focus on operation optimization and risk prevention and control to ensure the realization of the goals set at the beginning of the year."
